

Project: Violence Against Women Migrants and Refugees: Analyzing Causes and Effective Policy Response

Are you a community organization working with immigrant or refugee women in Canada?

We are currently conducting qualitative interviews across Canada with recent migrant and refugee women about their experiences, beliefs and impacts of gender-based violence, as well as their interactions with service providers.

If you are an individual in an organization who can put us in touch with interview candidates (women who would like to share their experiences with one of our highly skilled and trained interviewers), please contact us.

To help defray any costs immigrant and refugee women may incur by participating in this interview, we will compensate them with $30. Their participation in this research is entirely voluntary. Their safety and confidentiality are important to us and we will work with them to ensure their privacy and security.

For more information or if you can put us into contact with a woman from your organization, please contact:

Mia Sisic, Postdoctoral Fellow
Saint Mary's University, Halifax, NS

☎ 1 519 999 9102

✉ MIA.SISIC@SMU.CA

🌐 WWW.SMU.CA/GENDERNET/WELCOME.HTML

This is a 3-year collaborative project supported by funding from the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR FRN: 161903) and the GENDER-NET Plus ERA-Net Cofund. This project is part of a larger comparative initiative, the GBV-MIG project, which includes research teams in France, Ireland, Austria, Israel, Turkey, and Norway
<https://gbvmigration.cnrs.fr/the-project/> <https://smu.ca/gendernet/welcome.html>

This research has been reviewed and approved by the Saint Mary's University Research Ethics Board (# 19-092), the Research Ethics Board of the University of New Brunswick (#2019-113), the University of Guelph Research Ethics Board (# 19-09-004), and the University of Manitoba Human Ethics Board (#P2019:099)